

Relative Clauses → COMPLETE THE SENTENCES USING A RELATIVE PRONOUN:

TEST A

1. Today's teens are uniquely privileged. They've grown up in a period of relative prosperity.
1. Today's teens, _____, are uniquely privileged

2. Girls were professionally discriminated in the past. Their opportunities are now limitless.
2. Girls, _____, were professionally discriminated in the past.

3. Solitude affects many teenagers. It can extend into the evening.
3. Solitude, _____, affects many teenagers.

4. A student was bullying a smaller boy. He was told off by a teacher.
4. The student _____

TEST B

1. Cable and the net weren't available for the previous generation. They provide limitless information.
1. Cable and the net, _____, weren't available for the previous generation.

2. Girls have now unprecedented opportunities. They were professionally discriminated in the past.
2. Girls, _____, have now unprecedented opportunities.

3. Modern teenagers cling to cliques. Their parents don't give them the guidance they need.
3. Modern teenagers, _____, _____, cling to cliques.

4. A student was bullying a smaller boy. He was told off by a teacher.
4. The student _____